The American Rental Association created three brochures as a way to help our members with their recruiting efforts. They are available for you to use as stand-alone pieces or as complements to your existing marketing materials.

Each of the recruitment brochures focuses on a different area of the rental industry. There is a brochure specifically designed for:

- Service technician rental careers
- General equipment rental careers
- Party and event rental careers

Order your copies today. Your membership level, based on rental revenue, will determine the maximum number of brochures you can receive free of charge.
